1. 25X1
2. Comment. The units unloaded probably belonged to the 63d AAA Div and may have come from either Templin or, possibly, Mustraw.
3. 25X1
4. Comment. The information probably refers to the outer area of the Ravensbrueck concentration camp which probably houses units of the 9th Sig Regt of the Second Gds Mecz Army. Units of this regiment and other signal units of the army moved in columns, probably in conjunction with exercises of the army which began in the area of Neustrelitz in late September or early October. 25X1
5. Comment. Possibly units of the 25th Tank Div. 25X1
6. Comment. Since the large fall maneuvers in this area did not begin until 26 September, probably units of the 207th Itz Rifle Div practiced in the northeastern section of Letzling Heath. Kathrinenberg is located south of Boergitz.
